Describe the internship assignment:

O'Neill Sea Odyssey (OSO) provides a hands-on educational experience to encourage the protection and preservation of our living sea and communities. OSO was founded in 1996 by wetsuit innovator and surfer Jack O'Neill. A living classroom was created on board a 65-foot catamaran sailing the Monterey Bay National Marine Sanctuary where 4th – 6th grade students from schools throughout Central California receive hands-on lessons about the marine habitat and the importance of the relationship between the living sea and the environment. The program is conducted on board the catamaran with follow-up lessons at the shore-side Education Center at the Santa Cruz Harbor. It is free of charge, but students earn their way into the program by designing and performing a project to benefit their community.

OSO is seeking a volunteer intern(s), to manage the organization's social media. Duties include photography and videography on-board the O'Neill Catamaran. Managing Facebook, Instagram, Twitter, YouTube and Blog posts and other social media accounts to engage our audience of supporters and followers. This is a unique opportunity to be part of a small team of passionate individuals working to instill the next generation of ocean stewards. At the same time, developing valuable skills in marketing, fund-raising, nonprofit and event management.

Prerequisites:

- Must be comfortable on the water.
- Social media and graphic design savvy
- Able to commit to the minimum hours
- Positive energy, creativity, and a fun personality a must.
